Contribution ID: 32   Type: not specified

Falling Off the Edge, and How to Help

Tuesday 10 June 2025 10:15 (1 hour)

The difference between being reasonably able to run a security program and falling below the cyber poverty line can be one year's budget cuts, a business event, a breach, a pandemic or a war. How can we help prevent organizations from falling over the edge, or lift up those who can't even see the edge from where they are? In this session, we'll talk about new initiatives, what more is needed, and how you can help no matter where you sit.

Length

60 minutes

Optional: Speaker / convener biography

Wendy Nather is the Senior Research Initiatives Director at 1Password. She was previously the Director of Advisory CISOs at Duo Security, Research Director at the Retail ISAC, and Research Director of the Information Security Practice at 451 Research. Wendy led IT security for the EMEA region of the investment banking division of Swiss Bank Corporation (now UBS), and served as CISO of the Texas Education Agency. She was inducted into the Infosecurity Europe Hall of Fame in 2021. Wendy serves on the board of directors for Sightline Security, is on the steering committee for the IST Ransomware Task Force, and is a Senior Fellow at the Atlantic Council's Cyber Statecraft Initiative.

Primary author: NATHER, Wendy

Presenter: NATHER, Wendy

Session Classification: Talks

Track Classification: Talks and presentations